DEVICE

1. Meets the minimum system requirements.

Refer to : <https://wiki.nus.edu.sg/x/IYTLG>

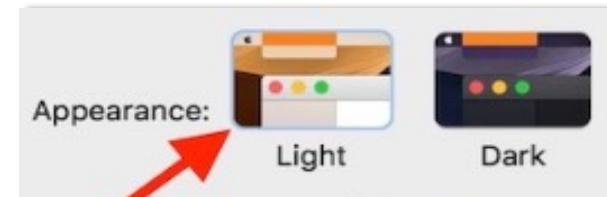

- For Windows: Windows 10 22H2, Windows 11 21H2, and Windows 11 22H2 are supported.
- For Mac OS: Big Sur, Monterey, and Ventura (Intel, M1 Chip and M2 Chip) are supported.
- If your current OS is supported, DO NOT upgrade your OS (especially to a beta version) before your exam.

2. Set default language to English and check the device name is in English.

Refer to: <https://wiki.nus.edu.sg/x/FaNJCw>

3. MacOS set appearance to Light mode.

Refer to: <https://wiki.nus.edu.sg/x/OIY9Dw>

4. Wireless accessories (e.g., wireless headsets, mouse and keyboards) not recommended. You are advised to use the WIRED equivalent.

Examplify may block wireless communications, or it can be affected by interference from other devices. You need to be aware of space limitations in the exam venue as there may not be sufficient space to arrange all equipment in the space provided.

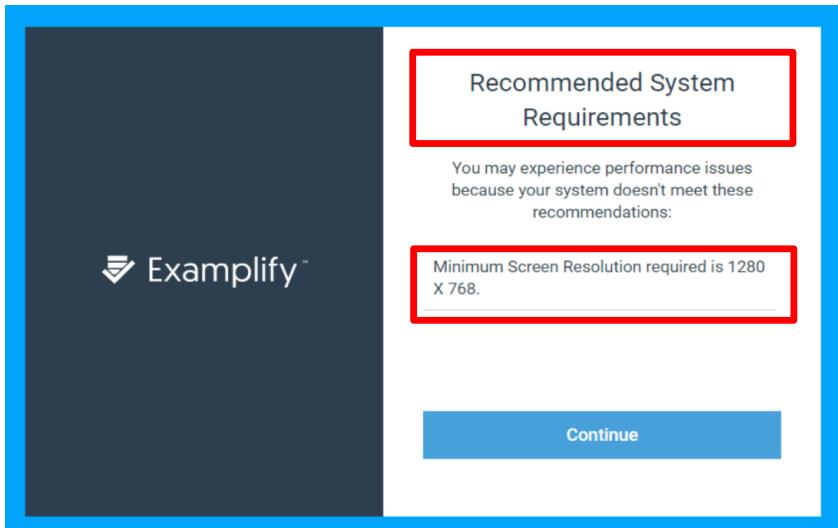

MINIMUM SCREEN RESOLUTION

5. Recommended screen resolution and scale

Screen resolution: 1280 x 768 or higher

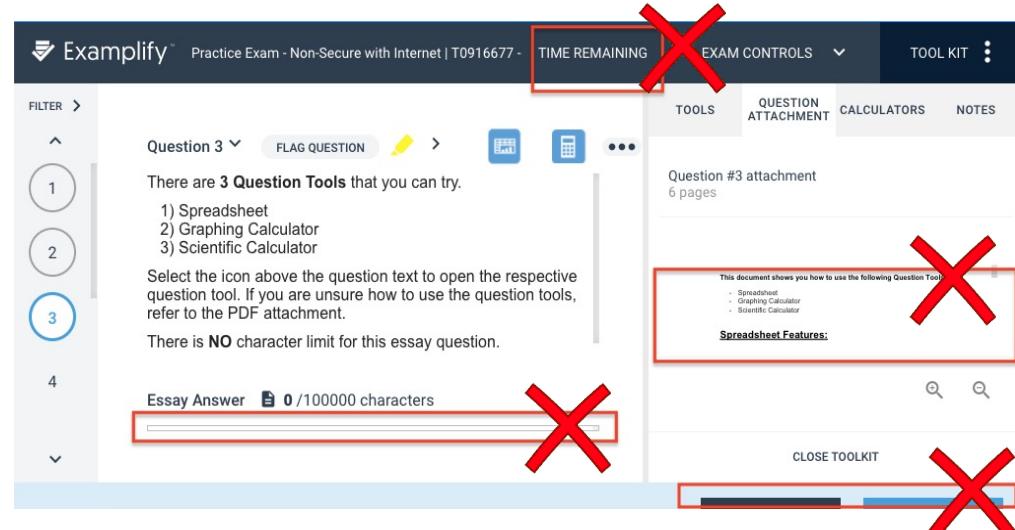

Display scale: 100%

For Windows - If you see this pop-up window when you launch Examplify, do not ignore. Refer to <https://wiki.nus.edu.sg/x/hJCrCw> to fix it.

For Mac - You will not see this pop-up window when you launch Examplify. Refer to <https://wiki.nus.edu.sg/x/a4KXEw> to set scale properly

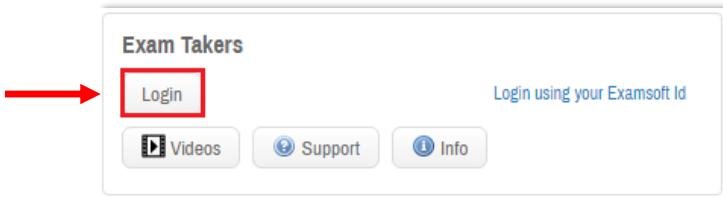

➤ The recommended scale is at 100% as anything past 100% risks information being cut-off or stretched during an exam such as timer display, blurry information, tool kit not being accessible, and general cut-off of Examplify visual details and tools. You need to change the scale until the best view for you. (see below image for illustration)

ST NUS is No 1 and NTU No 5 in inaugural Asia-Pacific University Rankings

Sandra Davie 367 words 5 July 2017 The Straits Times STIMES Engadget (c) 2017 Singapore Press Holdings Limited

SINGAPORE - The National University of Singapore (NUS) has topped the inaugural Asia-Pacific University Rankings released on Wednesday (July 5) by the Times Higher Education magazine, followed by Nanyang Technological University in fifth place.

University of Melbourne third and Nanyang fourth.

oted that NUS is particularly strong when it comes to its international outlook, while NTU excels in research impact - it ranks ninth.

pillars underlying the ranking suggests that the country will do well," he said.

ons, international outlook and industry income.

He was delighted that NUS has been recognised as the top university in the region.

long term strategy of building broad-based excellence across

"Higher education and research in the Asia-Pacific region is thriving and universities in this part of the world, including NUS, will play an increasingly important role in driving the transformation of this dynamic region and in addressing both the challenges and opportunities along the way," he added.

NTU President Beril Andersson said Singaporeans should be proud that there are two top universities in Singapore.

He added: "At NTU, we have created a conducive environment for world class education and research excellence. We will continue to build on our strengths in education, research and industry collaborations that will create value for Singapore and the world."

This new league table from Times Higher Education ranks 243 universities in the Asia-Pacific region, including Australia and New Zealand.
